Cut five flash cards from one color of paper and five from another. Write these phrases on the first set of cards: I can write, I can speak, I can draw, I can dance, and I can sing. Write these adverbs on the second set: quickly, slowly, carefully, proudly, angrily. Lay the cards face down on a table. Then have your child pick a card from each set and read the words aloud to form a sentence, such as I can speak slowly. Ask her to demonstrate the meaning of the adverb by performing the action described. Have your child return the cards face down and repeat the activity with other card combinations.
