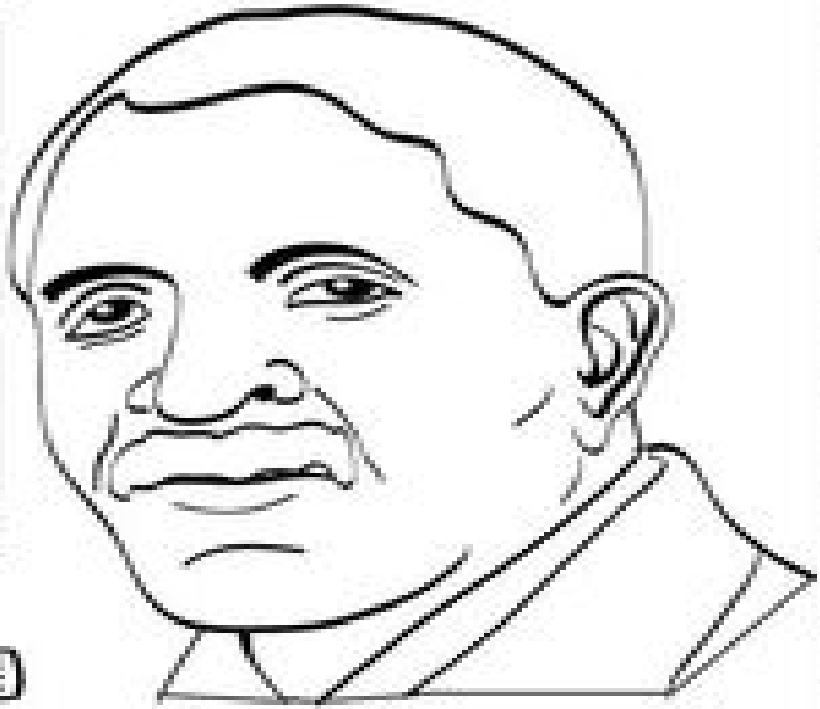
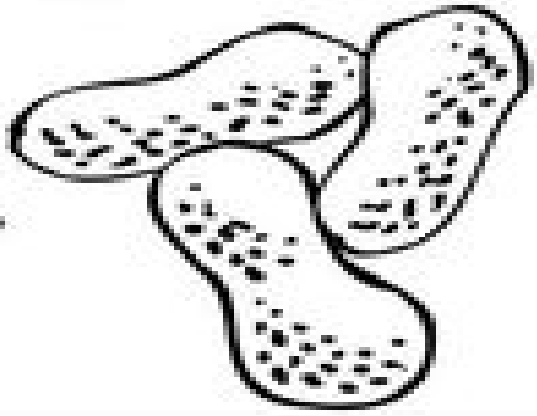
George Washington Carver

George Washington Carver is one of the most famous African American scientists.




This farming wizard figured out how to create more than 300 products from peanuts – not to mention what he made from sweet potatoes and pecans! George Washington Carver's discoveries made farming grow and grow and grow in the South!