NAME _____

DATE _____

CLASSIFYING LIVING THINGS

TO THE TOWER!

Cut out each box below. Then glue it next to the sentence it completes.

1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8
9
10
11
12

1. Scientists _____ the animal kingdom into two groups.
2. Animals that have backbones are called _____.
3. Each bone that makes up the backbone is called a _____.
4. _____ are animals that do not have backbones.
5. _____ are vertebrates that have dry, scaly skin.
6. Vertebrates that have moist skin and no scales are called _____.
7. _____ are vertebrates that produce milk for their young.
8. Invertebrates that have jointed legs and two or more body parts are called _____.
9. Snails and clams are invertebrates called _____.
10. Invertebrates with three pairs of legs, three main body parts, and exoskeletons are called _____.
11. The human spine is an example of an _____.
12. A shell that covers the outside of an animal's body is called an _____.

©The Mailbox® • Teacher's Helper® • TEC16816 • Dec/Jan 2006

amphibians	arthropods	mollusks	vertebrates
insects	classify	invertebrates	exoskeleton
vertebra	endoskeleton	Reptiles	Mammals