University of Phoenix Material

Ethical Dilemma Worksheet

Incident Number:

1. What is the ethical issue or problem? Identify the issue accurately.
The moral aspect in the case is the prevention. The is aware of the possible misconduct of a police officer who has altered a police report. What should he do?

2. What are the most important facts? What have been the most learning on the ethical dilemma presented? Include any important potential economic, social, or political pressures, and available recommended facts.
In this scenario Officer Frank and Officer Flores arrive at the scene of a domestic abuse call. Upon arriving the officers observe a man identifying to the front door of his home and allegedly hit one man on the ground. Officer identifying the head of the man to the attorney, police officers notice a no DUI report. Because the officers did not actually observe the suspect driving the vehicle police could be not to arrest the suspect for a DUI but despite policy the police officers decide to arrest the suspect anyway. Upon arriving back at the police station Officer Frank writes a medical report concerning the night's events and turnoff it in to the prosecutor. Later Officer Flores look back the report and changes the part where Officer Frank had claimed that the officers had not actually seen the DUI suspect driving the car. The prosecutor after has previously reviewed the report noticed the discrepancy and the alterations that had been made by Flores.

3. Identify each stakeholder (key actor) who has an interest in the outcome of the ethical issue. From the perspective of the moral agent, the individual model collecting an difficult course of action, what obligation is owed to the stakeholder? Why?
Stakeholder (Key Actor)	Obligation Owed to the Stakeholder	(Perspective: Office Frank, the Ethical Agent, will Suspect?)
Prosecutor	Duty, rights, fairness	The prosecutor is the moral agent. Their responsibility is to ensure that justice is served.
Police Officers	Impartiality	Officer Flores committed a serious against the criminal suspect when altering the report.
DUI Suspect	Nonmaleficence	The criminal suspect does not want to suffer the legal punishment of having committed a DUI and domestic abuse against his wife.