

Pronoun person	Affirmative (yes) have / has	Negative (no/not) haven't / hasn't	Question (?) Have / Has
I	I have already told him.	I haven't told him yet.	Have I told him?
	I have already eaten lunch.
		I haven't brushed my teeth yet.
You			Have you sung this song before?
	You have cleaned the house already!
			Have you been here before?
He	He has already seen this movie.	He hasn't seen this movie yet.	Has he already seen this movie?
			Has he lost his pen?
		He hasn't eaten lunch.
She			Has she told him?
		She hasn't brushed her teeth.
It			Has it been here?
		It hasn't eaten.
We		We haven't eaten dinner yet.
	We have been here before.
			Have we told him that?
You	You have been here before.
		You haven't brushed your teeth yet.
			Have you told him that?
They	They have already seen the movie.
	They have eaten lunch.
		They haven't been here before.	