IF YOU REALLY KNEW ME...

What would people find out about you if they really knew you?

If you really took the time to get to know me, you would know that...

What keeps other people from getting to know these things about you?