Can You Make a Living With a Temper Like That?

To be successfully involved in most jobs and businesses, people need anger management skills. Some people who lack anger management skills believe that they will be able to support themselves even though they can't control their temper. Here are some of the reasons they believe that they will be able to succeed financially as adults. Do you believe these explanations and reasons?

"My boss wants to see what kind of a living you can make out of your anger."

"My boss will always take care of me no matter what."

"I'll just go to work."

"My gang will take care of me."

"I'll find you another job."

"I'll work for anything until I'm in court."

"I'll find you another job."
