abdicate – To go up, adjusted voluntarily autobiography – Life-story of a man, [illegible] aggressor – A person who attacks first amateur – One who pursues interest or sport activity arbitrator – A person appointed by parties to settle the dispute between them adolescence – The period between childhood and adulthood

Bibliophile – A great lover of books

Botany – The branch of biology dealing with plant life

Bilingual – A person who speaks two languages

Catalogue – A list of books

Centenary – Celebration of a hundred-fifty years since a century

Collegial – A co-worker or a fellow-worker in the same distribution

Contemporaries – Persons living in the same age

Candidate – A person who readily believes whatever he is told to believe

Culture – A man, devoid of kind feeling and sympathy

Cosmopolitan – A man with a broad and international outlook

Celibacy – Abstinence from sex

Deteriorate – To go from bad to worse

Democracy – Government of the people, for the people, by the people

Monarchy – A political opinion which is ruled by sovereign

Dean – A person which neither party wins

Egoist – A person who always thinks of himself, inordinately who is self-lover, self-conscious

Epidemic – A contagious disease which spreads over whole area

Extrapolate – A specified a generalization with [illegible] premises

Etiquette – Established rules of conduct, rules of acceptable behavior