

Timeline Worksheet

Name _____

This is one example of a timeline. Many times you will see them drawn as just a straight line with notches coming out of them that tell different events in a sequential order often with a date. Answer the following questions with your partner about this timeline.

Day 1-Papa left.
Day 2-Abbie began to take care of the lights.
Day 3-The storm came.
Day 4
Day 5-Abbie continued to take care of the lights.
Day 6
Day 7
Day 8-Abbie saved the hens.
Day 9
Day 10
Day 11-Abbie cared for her mother and sisters.
Day 12
Day 13
Day 14
Day 15-Storm ended and Papa came home.

1. Papa left the island on _____.
2. Papa came home on _____.
3. Abbie saved the hens on _____.
4. Abbie cared for her mother and sisters on _____.
5. Abbie started taking care of the lights on _____ the _____ day after her father left.

Often time lines run horizontally also. See the example below. Now make a time line of your own life with specific events that have happened to you often called milestones-such as birthdate, crawling, walking, talking, etc. Put some current things in to let us know about you.
