

Dessert Island Survival

Imagine that you are on a desert island by yourself, stranded just now in isolation and had to live a desert island that you can have no other choice, then if you get into the situation you must take some supplies from the bigger boat, but the island is small, so you can't take everything you want.

Before you go back to shore, You should consider only three items to save you life for future months you live there, the one to register must choose,

E.g. "I think we should be bring bacon/bacon is much more delicious for the back"

"you will never sleep the last night not with the bacon bacon"
