

A verb in the past tense describes an action that has already happened.

Words of the Past

Identifying and writing the correct verb tense

To read the words of the past on the Sphinx, you must follow these steps: If a verb ends in e, cross out the e and write the verb in the past tense. If the verb ends in y, cross out the y and write the verb in the past tense. If the verb ends in a consonant, add ed.

Example

1. add added

2. race _____

3. climb _____

4. blame _____

5. tease _____

6. walk _____

7. wish _____

8. study _____

9. count _____

10. carry _____

11. thank _____

12. supply _____

Eg. Sam!

Have your child cut three large diamond shapes from tagboard to make kites. On the first kite, write Add ed. On the second one, write Drop the final e and add ed. On the third kite, write Drop the final y and add ed. Tape a two-foot length of yarn to the back of each kite. Cut paper bows and on each one write a verb such as play, tease, or run. Then tell your child to decide which rule fits each word and tape the bows to the tails of the corresponding kites. Afterwards, tape a loop of yarn to the top of each kite. Let your child hold the kites by the loops and run outside with the kites flying behind her.