3) What do you think the text is about?

Have you ever noticed your kids to use the phone more?

Do not feel a little "ugh?" is that you are concerned. More? How the phone does? The called "Screen off" if that's your reaction then you are probably better than one. Well, because for some children things are very different.

In some days of ours. The great parental stress. It's so far away, we come together to discuss it in words of their own, but simply forget how to communicate. It can happen in family. One catches them happy and outward going. The next month school is calling. Maria invited to watching television 2 for the nearly 3th time.

They're no longer children, but adults, are they? Their bodies are changing. They feel more physical impulses when their parents make them feel it difficult to cope with. It's hard watching the boy about what is normal age. They can discuss and it's like to have to change in yourself.

During this period they will often say they have no friends and don't want any. In fact, they are not desperate to join a group. "I'm too fat. I'm too skinny." My hair is too green. My clothes aren't beautiful enough!

In the most important thing you can do is to get them talking. Often all it requires is a little encouragement, or responding in the spirit of a little bit of sympathy maybe, encourage your children to get some friends right.

They may start with television 2 another twenty five times. But if they have a drawing they'll discuss it afterwards. You can then sit down to talk about it, or go to the cinema and see some films together.

But remember, a fifteen-minute conversation with your children every day can help them become more open to your own words.
