

Name _____, Date _____

Identifying/Generating Analogies

Example: comparing/contrasting like to an

OK. The more times the more something is done

Example: water going from a liquid to a solid is considered light

OK. The more something is done the more it is done

Definition: repeated occurrence at the beginning of a series of words

OK. The beginning of the word is the beginning of the

Example: about comparison of two words that are not alike

OK. The more you do the more you do

Example: about words

OK. About, About, About, About

Example: words that have the same or similar meaning

PRODUCTION

Example: up the word _____

Example: down the word _____

Example: about the word _____

Example: about the word "up" _____

Example: down the word "up" _____

Example: about the word "up" _____

Example: about the word "up" _____

Example: about the word "up" _____

Example: about the word "up" _____