

Library Lion
By Madeleine L'Engle

The Library Lion learns a lot about how to behave in the library, and he becomes a very helpful visitor.
Read the sentences from the story.
Use the words in bold and underline one of the definitions below.
Write the correct word in the blank.

Mr. Arden strolled when he heard that.

The lion did not strut.

In fact, he seemed very well suited to the library.

He dusted the encyclopedias.

This time, Miss Martineo had called him to look at the envelopes for the unread notices.

"If you cannot be quiet, you will have to leave," she said in a firm voice.

Miss Martineo then came striding out of her office.

The lion wandered all around the library.

- _____ begin to move
- _____ walked without a definite purpose
- _____ strut
- _____ read the lines needed, late
- _____ made arrangements
- _____ a set of books with information on many topics
- _____ walking with long steps
- _____ approach