

Home Map Coloring Worksheet

After coloring your different natural areas or features, compare your map to other students' maps and see how they are able to create a full map of the world. There are additional coloring resources and ideas for you to learn and expand the complexity of the world.

Go to the next page 'Geographical Knowledge Worksheet' and see learning about the different oceans and islands in the world. As you explore, you will also see different regions based on the type of terrain.