Read the story carefully.

Once upon a time, there was a crow. The crow wanted to sing. But the crow had a terrible voice. All the animals in the forest would cover their ears when the crow tried to sing. One day, the crow met a monkey. The monkey was very naughty. He told the crow to sleep in a dirty pond for a few nights. The monkey said that the water in the dirty pond was magical. The water would help the crow to sing. The silly crow believed the monkey.
