

Basic Inquiry – Zoo - Animal Behavior

Basic Inquiry

Pick a zoo animal you would like to adopt and pretend it will live at home with you. There are many things you need to know about an animal before you bring it home. Let us prepare for your new arrival by learning as much as we can about this kind of animal. Please remember that you have to make it comfortable, and an elephant, even a baby one, would be too big to sleep in your bed at night.

Pick a zoo animal: _____

Where is its wild home? _____

Is it a boy or girl? _____

How old is it? _____

What is its name? _____

What does it like to eat? _____

How does it get its food in the wild? _____

Where does it feel safe? _____

What does it like to sleep? _____

What does it like to do for fun? _____

How would your new zoo pet help you? _____

How would you make your zoo pet comfortable? _____

Draw a picture of your zoo pet at home with you.
