

Small Type (Small Text)

Small text is used for secondary information, footnotes, and fine print. It is typically 8-10 points in size. The text in this block is small and dense, demonstrating the appearance of small type in a document layout.

Small text is used for secondary information, footnotes, and fine print. It is typically 8-10 points in size. The text in this block is small and dense, demonstrating the appearance of small type in a document layout.