

The bears went into the bedroom to lie down. "Someone has been sleeping in our beds!" growled Papa Bear and Mama Bear.

By and by, a girl named Goldilocks saw their house. "How cute!" she cried. Then she opened the door and went inside.

Just then, Goldilocks opened her eyes. Yikes! She was so scared that she jumped up and ran out the door. And the three bears never saw that troublesome girl again.

