

Balloon Debate 1

A hot air balloon which is being freight loaded will soon crash because it is overweight. Therefore you have to get rid of some of the passengers or objects in it. Fortunately only one passenger/object which is crucial for the world will survive. In order to be the winner and be on the earth's map you will have to give your arguments and convince the others that you are essential and necessary for the world. By the end of the debate your group will have to vote for the winner. You are an iPad

Balloon Debate 2

A hot air balloon which is being freight loaded will soon crash because it is overweight. Therefore you have to get rid of some of the passengers or objects in it. Fortunately only one passenger/object which is crucial for the world will survive. In order to be the winner and be on the earth's map you will have to give your arguments and convince the others that you are essential and necessary for the world. By the end of the debate your group will have to vote for the winner. You are the Playstation 3

Balloon Debate 3

A hot air balloon which is being freight loaded will soon crash because it is overweight. Therefore you have to get rid of some of the passengers or objects in it. Fortunately only one passenger/object which is crucial for the world will survive. In order to be the winner and be on the earth's map you will have to give your arguments and convince the others that you are essential and necessary for the world. By the end of the debate your group will have to vote for the winner. You are an iPhone

Balloon Debate 4

A hot air balloon which is being freight loaded will soon crash because it is overweight. Therefore you have to get rid of some of the passengers or objects in it. Fortunately only one passenger/object which is crucial for the world will survive. In order to be the winner and be on the earth's map you will have to give your arguments and convince the others that you are essential and necessary for the world. By the end of the debate your group will have to vote for the winner. You are an iPad

Balloon Debate 5

A hot air balloon which is being freight loaded will soon crash because it is overweight. Therefore you have to get rid of some of the passengers or objects in it. Fortunately only one passenger/object which is crucial for the world will survive. In order to be the winner and be on the earth's map you will have to give your arguments and convince the others that you are essential and necessary for the world. By the end of the debate your group will have to vote for the winner. You are a MacBook

Balloon Debate 6

A hot air balloon which is being freight loaded will soon crash because it is overweight. Therefore you have to get rid of some of the passengers or objects in it. Fortunately only one passenger/object which is crucial for the world will survive. In order to be the winner and be on the earth's map you will have to give your arguments and convince the others that you are essential and necessary for the world. By the end of the debate your group will have to vote for the winner. You are a 3D television