

1. SCENARIO-BASED QUESTIONS
JACOBSON, G. (2008). Introduction to Psychology (6th Edition).
Boston, MA: Allyn and Bacon.

11. DISCUSSION
As part of your final assignment, you students are available for

- Completion
1. Read the scenario and respond to questions by analyzing the general and specific of the scenario.
 2. Describe the situation based on their physical and psychological feelings in words.
 3. Take out the concepts of your psychology course and apply it.
 4. Answer the questions about the scenario and the related questions of the scenario based on their own words.

- Analysis
1. Read the scenario and respond to questions with a solution.
 2. Describe the situation based on their physical and psychological feelings in words.
 3. Answer the questions about the scenario and the related questions of the scenario based on their own words.
 4. Answer the questions about the scenario and the related questions of the scenario based on their own words.

- Synthesis
1. Read the scenario and respond to questions with a solution.
 2. Describe the situation based on their physical and psychological feelings in words.
 3. Answer the questions about the scenario and the related questions of the scenario based on their own words.

12. SCENARIO-BASED QUESTIONS
JACOBSON, G. (2008). Introduction to Psychology (6th Edition).

DISCUSSION
As part of your final assignment, you students are available for

Completion
Read the scenario and respond to questions with a solution.

Analysis
Read the scenario and respond to questions with a solution.

Synthesis
Read the scenario and respond to questions with a solution.

13. SCENARIO-BASED QUESTIONS
JACOBSON, G. (2008). Introduction to Psychology (6th Edition).
Boston, MA: Allyn and Bacon.

DISCUSSION
As part of your final assignment, you students are available for
Read the scenario and respond to questions with a solution.