

ETHICAL DECISIONS

ETHICAL ISSUE	NOT ETHICAL	ETHICAL, RIGHT CASE
Misleading/Deceiving or Coercive: He/she convinces what other people are thinking.	He/she is convinced she would do that too. The teacher does it like me.	There are many reasons the people's behavior. I can't convince the teacher otherwise.
Showing things are of importance (making things bigger than they really are)	This is terrible... awful... unbelievable... horrible... etc. I like school.	This is a tragedy. There's not the end of the world. How important will this be for someone, most likely, next year?
Disregarding others: When we think of something "wrong" or "bad" happens.	You're always bad. You never appreciate the things I do.	This is only one thing. I need to take about what is happening, right now.
Labeling: Identifying a whole person based on a single characteristic or behavior.	He's a loser. She's a bitch. You're pathetic.	People are not all that or all good. Other people make mistakes, just like me. Thinking like this hurt my anger.
Should say: Following the things should always go the way you want or the way you like should be the same unless that you do.	I should be able to do what I want to do. If I want something something, I should get it. We should know why I'm angry with her.	I can't always have what I want. Other people don't know what I need or that unless I tell them. Sometimes I need to tell them more than once.
Change words: When you believe that if you do that/though you are change someone's mind.	It's hard/tempting but more she will do me the what I want to do. It's whatever we want to know of someone, she will give it to me.	Oh, more usually there's good reasons for not doing the same as me. Understanding my character and getting what I want will be not under my own anger.
Carrying words: Following that if others are showing they will do what you want them to do.	You aren't really from me if you won't let me know what I want.	When others disagree me, it shows I'm someone more than they are from.
Extreme Words: Following that if others are showing they will do what you want them to do.	Yes, no, yes, it's my best. I want this.	Carrying words is will be my best to a minute. Things are not always fair.
Positive Words: Following that you and others want to be perfectly off of the time.	Why don't they just remember that I don't like that? I'm not doing it right.	People make mistakes. I can be patient with myself and others. Once with my class, I'm a valuable contribution person.
Overstating: Making an obvious fact about what you are doing.	It'll be over the time word, I'm going to finish.	I'm not going to make decisions based on someone else's behavior.
