

she had not finished a game of basketball and was ready to walk home when she suddenly stopped, along the street, and, looking at the basketball court, she had noticed some boys had captured another basketball and did not know where her mother was. She picked her dress and walked fast to the nearest public place to find her mother. Just then, she saw a woman with a basketball in her hands. She was walking away when she picked up the ball. The woman saw her mother. She was shocked and angry, and when she found out that her mother was home, she decided to go to the court.
