

Question 1: Following the 2008 election:

Obama was elected.

He is the President.
He is the Governor.

Obama was elected Governor of the State of Illinois in 2002, a largely unopposed race over Democrat Rod Blagojevich. He served the longest term of any Governor in Illinois history.

Question 2: Following the 2008 election:

Obama was elected.

He is the President.
He is the Governor.

Obama was elected Governor of the State of Illinois in 2002, a largely unopposed race over Democrat Rod Blagojevich. He served the longest term of any Governor in Illinois history.

Question 3: Following the 2008 election:

Obama was elected.

He is the President.
He is the Governor.

Obama was elected Governor of the State of Illinois in 2002, a largely unopposed race over Democrat Rod Blagojevich. He served the longest term of any Governor in Illinois history.

Question 4: Following the 2008 election:

Obama was elected.

He is the President.
He is the Governor.

Obama was elected Governor of the State of Illinois in 2002, a largely unopposed race over Democrat Rod Blagojevich. He served the longest term of any Governor in Illinois history.

Question 5: Following the 2008 election: