

GUSTAR AND VERBS LIKE GUSTAR

GUSTAR

1. The verb gustar is the verb most commonly used in Spanish to express like and dislikes. The ending of the verb agrees with the _____ that the person likes or dislikes and not with _____. Objects must be accompanied by the _____.

No me gusta el pollo.
 No le gustan los vegetales.

I do not like chicken.
He does not like vegetables.

2. The indirect object pronouns (_____, _____, _____, _____, _____, and _____) are used to refer to a _____.

Nos gusta la musica clasica.
Te gustan los videos.

We like classical music.
You like videos.

To add emphasis, use a prepositional phrase: _____

A nosotros nos gusta la musica clásica.
A ti te gustan los videos.

We like classical music.
You like videos.

To clarify le and les, use _____

A el le gusta la espinaca.
A ellos les gusta las carne.
A Uds. les gustan las frutas.

He likes spinach.
They like meta.
You like fruit.

3. If the subject is an _____, the _____ form of the verb gustar is used.

Me gusta salir los sabados.
 A Felipe le gusta nadar y jugar al tenis.

I like to go out on Saturdays.
Felipe likes to swim and play tennis.

OTHER VERBS LIKE GUSTAR

aburrir _____	fascinar _____	preocupar _____
agradar _____	fastidiar _____	quedar _____
apetecer _____	hacer falta _____	sobrar _____
convenir _____	importar _____	sorprender _____
doler _____	interesar _____	tocar _____
molestar _____	faltar _____	parecer _____
encantar _____		