

The First President of the United States

George Washington (1732-1799)

I was born on February 22, 1732, in Westchester, N.Y. I grew up on a large farm and worked as a surveyor. I went to school and served in the military. When I was twenty-one, I was elected to the House of Representatives. I served in the House for eight years. I was then elected to the Senate for two years. I then served as the first President of the United States from 1789 to 1797.

When I was in London, I met a young woman named Martha Dandridge. We fell in love and married in 1759. I was then elected to the House of Representatives. I served in the House for eight years. I was then elected to the Senate for two years. I then served as the first President of the United States from 1789 to 1797. I was born on February 22, 1732, in Westchester, N.Y. I grew up on a large farm and worked as a surveyor. I went to school and served in the military. When I was twenty-one, I was elected to the House of Representatives. I served in the House for eight years. I was then elected to the Senate for two years. I then served as the first President of the United States from 1789 to 1797. I was born on February 22, 1732, in Westchester, N.Y. I grew up on a large farm and worked as a surveyor. I went to school and served in the military. When I was twenty-one, I was elected to the House of Representatives. I served in the House for eight years. I was then elected to the Senate for two years. I then served as the first President of the United States from 1789 to 1797.

On September 17, 1788, I was elected as the first President of the United States. I served from 1789 to 1797. I was born on February 22, 1732, in Westchester, N.Y. I grew up on a large farm and worked as a surveyor. I went to school and served in the military. When I was twenty-one, I was elected to the House of Representatives. I served in the House for eight years. I was then elected to the Senate for two years. I then served as the first President of the United States from 1789 to 1797.

Later, I led the army in a great victory at the Battle of the Clouds. My army of 11,000 men defeated the British army of 15,000 men. This battle was the last battle of the American Revolutionary War. I was then elected to the Senate for two years. I then served as the first President of the United States from 1789 to 1797. I was born on February 22, 1732, in Westchester, N.Y. I grew up on a large farm and worked as a surveyor. I went to school and served in the military. When I was twenty-one, I was elected to the House of Representatives. I served in the House for eight years. I was then elected to the Senate for two years. I then served as the first President of the United States from 1789 to 1797.

After my second term as President, I returned home to my farm in Mount Vernon. I died on December 14, 1799, at the age of 67. I was buried in the George Washington Memorial Park in Mount Vernon, Virginia.