

THE WATER CYCLE

See if you can fill in the spaces with some of the following words:

Surface Runoff	POA	Ocean	Rivers
Clouds	Groundwater	Evaporation	Precipitation
Light	Water Cycle	Rivers	Condensation

The movement of water between oceans, atmosphere, land and living things is called the _____. Water is essential to life on earth. In fact our bodies are _____ water! During _____, the sun's heat causes water to change from a liquid to a vapor. The vapor in the sky is known as _____. In the process of _____, the water vapour cools and returns to a liquid state. The water that falls as rain, sleet, hail and snow is called _____. Most precipitation falls into the _____. Some of the precipitation that falls on land _____ into streams, _____, and lakes and is called _____. Some water seeps into the ground and is stored in spaces between the rocks. This water is known as _____ and it slowly flows back into the soil, rivers and oceans.