

How to use the cards

This may be a pre-reading activity or post-reading activity over characters found in Greek mythology.

- Copy sets of each card for the desired number of students
- After being introduced to each character allow students to research more about them. Students may draw (or print and glue) images to the front of each card and complete the back portion with various facts from their in class reading or information that was discovered during their time researching. The information includes the names of the characters parents, myths the character is found in, important facts, and legendary words (words that are related to the name of the character).
- When a character card is completed students may cut and glue together the front and back or they may keep the portions connected to form a book of mythological heroes
