

Put the dialogues in order.

Dialogue 1

1. D: Hello! Yes, I need a ticket to Paris.
E: D: Hello! I want to check on the 10th of next month.
E: D: Hello! What will you be returning?
E: D: Hello! How long will you be leaving?
E: D: Hello! How many nights will you be staying?
E: D: Hello! How many, and how long a journey flight.
E: D: Hello! Thank you. You can pick up your tickets at the office on the 10th.
E: D: Hello! Yes, but I do want to go business-class and have a direct flight.
E: D: Hello! Thanks.
E: D: Hello! Let me check the computer. Yes, there is a flight available on the 10th for Paris. The tickets will cost $ 1400.
E: D: Hello! Do you want any particular airline?
E: D: Hello! American.
E: D: Hello! Perfect, book it.
E: D: Hello! How long is your stay?

Dialogue 2

1. D: Hello! Thank you, I need a new flight.
E: D: Hello! Hello.
E: D: Hello! Yes, how many are.
E: D: Hello! Thanks.
E: D: Hello! Well, I also have one left on hand.
E: D: Hello! How many pieces of luggage will you be checking in?
E: D: Hello! No, no, no, no, no, no.
E: D: Hello! Certainly.
E: D: Hello! Well, how long is your return flight?
E: D: Hello! How long you go.
E: D: Hello! Your luggage is too big, over the limit. You will have to pay an extra charge of $ 200.
