

Proof-reading

Here is a conversation that includes two riddles. Some of the capital letters, commas, quotation marks, and some other punctuation marks have been left out. Proof-read the text, and write your corrections on the page.

Do you like riddles asked joshua? When I can solve them replied sue. Try this one then. joshua continued

This thing eats up all we know
Animals, plants and birds also.
It bites metal, grinds rocks down
Attacks the man who wears the crown.
Lofty mountains are made lower
By its never ceasing power.

That's difficult complained sue. You'll have to give me time. That's it laughed joshua. You've said the answer. sue thought for a moment so i have she exclaimed. My turn now.

A box without hinges, key or lid
Yet golden treasure inside is hid.
