

The Beast on Mount Everest

Read the passage. Shade the correct answer.

There are legends that say a hairy beast lives on Mount Everest. Legends say the beast has thick legs and walks like a man. They say it has very long arms like an ape. They say its face looks human. People who live near the mountain call the beast a yeti (YEH-tee). Some people have seen big footprints that they think belong to a yeti. Explorers have tried to find the beast, but so far no one has found one.

- Where do legends say the beast lives?
 - No one knows.
 - Mount Everest
 - yeti
- How does the beast walk?
 - like a man
 - No one knows.
 - like an ape
- What do people who live near the mountain call the beast?
 - Mount Everest
 - hairy beast
 - yeti
- What do people say the yeti's face looks like?
 - an ape's
 - a lion's
 - a human's
- Have explorers ever found a yeti?
 - no
 - yes
 - No one knows.
- Do you think the author believes a yeti lives on Mount Everest? _____ Why? _____

- Do you believe a yeti lives on Mount Everest? _____ Why? _____

Answer: Use the details in the passage. Draw and color what the yeti might look like.