

Grammar Review Worksheet

A sentence is a group of _____ that expresses a complete _____.

Write the four types of sentences and the punctuation marks each one uses:

Sentence Type	Punctuation Type(s)
_____	_____
_____	_____
_____	_____
_____	_____

An understood You is used in command sentences. Even without showing the subject, the sentence is still _____.

When you is understood in a sentence, the subject is placed in parentheses when diagrammed.

In a question sentence does the subject come first, or is it in the middle? _____

A noun is the name of a _____, place, _____ or _____.

There are two types of nouns, circle the correct two choices:

Direct Proper Articles Common Verb Question

A _____ noun always begins with a capital letter because it is specific. For example, a this type of noun would be Mechanicsburg, rather than simply the word city.

A pronoun is a word used in place of a _____.

Fill in the missing pronouns:

I, me, _____, _____

You, _____, yours

_____, she, _____, _____, it

His, _____, _____

We, _____, Our, _____

_____, Them, _____, _____