

Name _____

George Washington Carver
Comprehension

More Than Peanuts

Read.

Peanuts can be used to make soap. Did you know that? George Washington Carver did. He learned a lot about peanuts. He helped farmers grow them well. George was good at taking care of plants. That is why he was called the Plant Doctor. George used peanuts to make soap and glue. He came up with lots of new ways to use peanuts. That's good for farmers who sell them!

Circle true or false.

- | | | |
|--|------|-------|
| 1. George was smart about peanuts. | true | false |
| 2. George never helped farmers. | true | false |
| 3. George was good at growing things. | true | false |
| 4. George found new ways to use peanuts. | true | false |
| 5. There are just a few ways to use peanuts. | true | false |

Bonus Box: Do you think the title is good? Why or why not? Write your answer on the back of this paper.