

Comparing the Ancient Roman Republic to the the Republic of the United States Today

	Rome	United States
Executive Branch (leaders)	What is the leader called? _____ How many are there? _____ What chosen them? _____ How long do they serve? _____ What are their jobs? _____ _____	What is the leader called? _____ How many are there? _____ What chosen them? _____ How long does he serve? _____ What is his job? _____ _____
Legislative Branch (lawmakers)	Senate	Senate
	How many are there? _____ What can be a member? _____ What chosen them? _____ How long do they serve? _____ What are their jobs? _____ _____	How many are there? _____ What can be a member? _____ What chosen them? _____ How long do they serve? _____ What are their jobs? _____ _____
	Assemblies	House of Representatives
	What can be a member? _____ How long do they serve? _____ What are their jobs? _____ _____	What can be a member? _____ How long do they serve? _____ What are their jobs? _____ _____
Judicial Branch (courts)	What are judges called? _____ How long do they serve? _____ What are their jobs? _____ _____	What are judges called? _____ How long do they serve? _____ What are their jobs? _____ _____
Legal Code (laws)	What is it called? _____ _____	What is it called? _____ _____
Citizenship (citizens)	What gets to vote? _____ _____	What gets to vote? _____ _____