

V: LIE 1. Lexeme	V: LAY — past → [le<sup>y</sup>d] 2. Word-Form	[le<sup>y</sup>z] 3. Phonological Word
Three kinds of "Word" as exemplified in a small portion of the morphological network of the English verbs lie<sub>1</sub> 'tell an untruth' (with its associated nominalization lie 'an untruth') and lie<sub>2</sub> 'recline' (with its associated causative verb lay 'cause to recline'). Some relationships with other lexemes are also shown.		