

The World Around Me

A lake is a body of water surrounded by land.

Mountains have steep sloping sides.

Deserts receive less than 10 inches of rain each year.