

Scrapbook for Our Ancient Greece Unit

We are studying many aspects of ancient Greece. Some of the topics that we will learn about are architecture, theatre, government and democracy, and mythology.

Your job is to gather as many examples of ancient Greek influence found in our world today. Look in newspapers or magazines. Cut out examples and keep them in a folder or envelope. Take photographs of places you visit or find in your neighborhood. These developed pictures should also go into the folder or envelope. Topics to be considered (but not only) should be Greek dramas presently performed, places in the U.S. with Greek names, expressions or words derived from ancient Greece, e.g. "to open a Pandora's box," hubris, etc.

The final project will be in scrapbook form.

Requirements are:

Size: 8 1/2 X 11

Cover: Title, your full name, date

Table of contents: Topics and numbered pages

All visual examples need to have captions
