

A Map of the World--The Continents

Countries in the world may change their borders or names for various reasons, but continents, the seven large land masses, have remained the same since the beginning of civilization.

Color the map of the world below as directed and fill in the blank spaces in the sentences.

1. Color the continent on which you live yellow. It is called _____.
2. Color the continent directly to its south green. It is _____.
3. The _____ borders these two continents on the west, and the _____ borders them on the east.
4. Greenland belongs to Denmark which is part of Europe. Color Europe blue.
5. One continent is an island named _____. Color it orange.
6. The largest continent is _____. Western Asia is bordered by _____, eastern Asia is bordered by the _____, and northern Asia is bordered by the _____, and the southern part of Asia is bordered by the _____. Color Asia tan.
7. Asia is connected to another continent, _____, by a small land strip. Color Africa red.
8. The last continent is named _____. Color it gray.
9. Color all bodies of water blue.

A few islands may not be colored. You will find out to what land group they belong to later.
