

Question:

Answer your question in your own words (short essay).

1. What is the difference between the concepts of "sustainable development" and "the green economy"? Explain the main differences between the two concepts and the evolution of the concept of sustainable development (SD).

There is a clear evolution of the concept of sustainable development. In the 1970s, there was a focus on environmental protection and the quality of the environment. In the 1980s, the concept of sustainable development emerged, which includes economic, social, and environmental aspects.

2. What effect is the geographical location of the countries (according to the concept of "globalization") on the development of the countries (SD)? Explain the concept of globalization and its impact on the development of the countries (SD).

Globalization has a significant impact on the development of the countries. It leads to the integration of the world economy and the exchange of goods, services, and information. This can lead to economic growth and development, but it can also lead to environmental degradation and social inequality.

3. What are the geographical aspects (climate and vegetation) of the country of Argentina? Explain the geographical aspects (climate and vegetation) of the country of Argentina and its impact on the development of the country (SD).

Argentina is a large country with a diverse climate and vegetation. It has a large area of agricultural land and a significant population. The geographical aspects of Argentina, such as its climate and vegetation, have a significant impact on its development and the environment.