Identifying Kinds of Pronouns Worksheet – 1

Name _____
Date _____ Period _____

Use your Pronouns Chart to help you identify different groups of pronouns.

Part I – Directions: Underline the pronoun or pronouns in each of the following sentences. Then, identify the kind of pronoun each is. Above each pronoun write PER for personal, REF for reflexive, or INTEN for intensive.

Examples:
PER INTEN
I will call Farid after school myself.
REF
Lucia smiled at herself in the mirror.

1. Sara picked up a handout for herself.
2. Are you aware of the dangers of smoking?
3. We should not let ourselves overlook the plight of the homeless.
4. "I will not tolerate lateness," the bandleader told us.
5. The principal himself called me with the good news.
6. "Jogging is not for me," said Dr. Wong.
7. The cat found a hiding place for itself.
8. After the twins assembled the ingredients, they looked for the muffin tins.
9. Before you mop the floor, please move the chairs.
10. Don't wear the new boots until you waterproof them.

Part II – Directions: In each of the following sentences, underline the demonstrative or relative pronoun. Above each pronoun write DEM if it is demonstrative or REL if it is relative.

Examples:
DEM
This is an updated map of Africa.
REL
Africa, which is the second largest continent, has several deserts.

1. The equator, which crosses Africa, is at 0° latitude.
2. These are the Atlantic and the Indian Oceans.
3. Chinua Achebe, whose native country is Nigeria, won the Nobel Prize in literature in 1989.
4. The water that lies to the west of Africa is the Atlantic Ocean.
5. "That is the small African republic Togo," Mr. Lawson told us.
6. The Mediterranean Sea, which borders Africa to the north, is the largest inland sea in the world.
7. Commercial fishers who work in the Mediterranean Sea catch tuna, sardines, and anchovies.
8. These are among the four hundred species of fish in this sea.
9. Is that the Kalahari Desert or the Sahara?
10. The country in Africa that fascinates me most is Egypt.