

Penguins

Fill in all the gaps. Then press "Check" to check your answers.

adaptations   almost   exclusively   flightless   harsh   ingesting

Penguins are a group of  birds that live almost  in the southern hemisphere. The  the largest and the Little Blue Penguin being the smallest. Some penguins are able to  temperatures help them  in the  by means such as waterproof feathers and extra  of water without  the salt.