

Date _____

Hibernating animals retreat to a den, burrow, or hollow log for protection in the winter. They also eat a lot of food before they hibernate and it is very difficult to wake them up!

Migrating animals travel to avoid bad weather or to find food. Some animals might travel far or short distances by swimming, flying, walking, hopping, or slithering.

Hibernating animals	Migrating animals