

Spoonerisms

Kingpinning camp is a well-known example of a spoonerism. W. A. Spooner from Oxford, England, accidentally "invented" spoonerisms; he often mixed up the sounds at the beginning of his words.

What did W. A. Spooner mean to say instead of kingpinning camp?

Here are some modern spoonerisms for you to "translate" into English - be careful with the spelling!

Did you hear the baseball ding?

Don't forget to drink the law!

We had chick fry last fish.

Do you like to head in red?

I can't see my scissors!

I caught a box of radio.

Can you think of any spoonerisms yourself? Write them here.

