

Sacajawea

Sacajawea traveled with the Lewis and Clark expedition to explore the western United States. She was the only woman in the party, and proved herself to be a very important member, as she was able to guide the men through the land and help translate when they encountered other Native Americans.