

Since the dawn of time, man has roamed and wandered over land and sea. In most cases it was to find a place to settle and build communities, but there were those who traveled to find things to buy and sell, or were hired to find routes, trails and passageways for trade and conquest. These people came to be known as the explorers, who eventually measured and mapped the entire Earth.

Here's a map of our world today: Can you find the continents and oceans? This will help you as you go through this book.
