

Post-Test WRITTEN

Identify the type of irony in each scenario: dramatic, verbal, and situational.

1. When General Patton is awarded a medal for his leadership during World War II, he says, "This medal goes to a man who has been through hell for 2 years. I wish to publicly recognize his performance."

_____

2. When General Patton is awarded a medal for his leadership during World War II, he says, "This medal goes to a man who has been through hell for 2 years. I wish to publicly recognize his performance."

_____

3. When General Patton is awarded a medal for his leadership during World War II, he says, "This medal goes to a man who has been through hell for 2 years. I wish to publicly recognize his performance."

_____

4. When General Patton is awarded a medal for his leadership during World War II, he says, "This medal goes to a man who has been through hell for 2 years. I wish to publicly recognize his performance."

_____

5. When General Patton is awarded a medal for his leadership during World War II, he says, "This medal goes to a man who has been through hell for 2 years. I wish to publicly recognize his performance."

_____

6. When General Patton is awarded a medal for his leadership during World War II, he says, "This medal goes to a man who has been through hell for 2 years. I wish to publicly recognize his performance."

_____