Dash as Substitution Worksheet

A dash is a punctuation mark used to separate a group of words, not parts of words like a hyphen. A dash is longer than a hyphen.

A dash can be used as a substitution.

Directions: Read each sentence. Add a dash as an interruption where needed.

Example: My favorite colors are; red and blue.

Answer: My favorite colors are---red and blue.

1. I know who is at the window; it is my friend.

2. The Beach Boys (a popular 60's band) gave a performance.

3. The King of England (who came to throne) attended the wedding.

4. He knew who to pick and they were Stephen Michael and David.

5. I think (and I will be honest about this) that you are terrific.
