Career Goals Worksheet

(adapted and added to by CSYH 2010 from Leeds University worksheet)

By completing this worksheet, either alone or with mentor, career coach or other support, you can begin to give definition to your career goals.

Imagine yourself in five years time and answer the questions in the present tense as if you have already arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have already arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have already arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have already arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have already arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have already arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have already arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have already arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have already arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have already arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have already arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have already arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have already arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have a live and a live arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have a live arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have a live arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have a live arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have a live arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have a live arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have a live arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have a live arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have a live arrived in your ideal role. Think about what you have a live arrived in your ideal role. Think arrived in your ideal role ar