

7-Orange Team

Date: 1/16/08

Cycle Day: 6

Math

Mrs. Goss – Algebra - 5-1 Practice all
Pre-Algebra -- Indirect Measurement Worksheet

Ms. Rhen – Algebra - 5-1 Practice all
Pre-Algebra -- Indirect Measurement Worksheet

Mr. Flannery – Alg: 5 board problems on temp conversions
Pre: 325 (10-17)

English

Mr. DiClemente –

- 1) Organize English folder by date; all papers require the five parts to a good heading in the upper right (Name, Period, Date, English, a specific description of the assignment). In addition, all papers should be properly corrected; review corrections of errors for mastery.
- 2) Update your "Do Now Booklet; every entry must be using sentence form and should have both the day and the date.
- 3) Study the following vocabulary words and their meanings:
plot, setting, suspense, theme, symbolism, symbol, tone, mood, characterization, indirect characterization, direct characterization, point of view, first person point of view, third person point of view, foreshadowing, satire, irony, verbal irony, dramatic irony, flashback, imagery, Freytag's pyramid, dénouement, exposition, conflict, narrator, narrative essay, humorous essay, drama/play, allegory, alliteration, allusion, ballad, blank verse, caesura, couplet, dramatic poetry, euphony, figurative language, free verse, haiku, hyperbole, iambic pentameter, lyric poetry, limerick, metaphor, meter, narrative poetry, onomatopoeia, paradox, personification, refrain, rhyme, rhythm, scansion, simile, sonnet, stanza, verse, composition, comparison/contrast composition, topic sentence, clincher sentence, transitional device, restatement, editing, revision, unity, coherence, supporting details, compare, contrast, characterization, character, brainstorm/web, the six steps in the process of writing: prewriting, conferencing/sharing, drafting, editing, revision, publishing, introduction, conclusion

Ms. Brown and Mr. DiClemente (5th Period Only) –

Science

Mr. Kauffman – Study Cell Division notes
Cell Division quiz on Wednesday

***Period 2, 7, and 8 only: the Science Fair deadline has been extended until 1/21; the work for this was to be completed outside of class***