

ETHICAL DECISIONS

ETHICAL ISSUE	NOT ETHICAL	ETHICAL, REASON WHY
Misleading/Deceiving or Coercive: He/she convinces what other people are thinking	He/she is convincing the reader to believe the reader doesn't like her	There are many reasons the people's behavior. I can't convince the reader thinking I can
Showing things are of importance (making things bigger than they really are)	This is terrible, awful, unbelievable, horrible, etc. I this awful	This is a tragedy, but it's not the end of the world. How important will this be to you? How important will this be to your?
Overgeneralizations: When we think of something "wrong" or "good" happens	You're always bad. You always represent the things I do.	This is only one thing. I need to talk about what is happening, right now.
Labeling: Describing a whole person based on a single characteristic or behavior	He's a loser. She's selfish. You're pathetic	People are not all that or all good. Other people make mistakes, just like me. Thinking like this hurt my anger.
Should say: Following the things should always go the way you want or the principles also should follow the same values that you do.	I should be able to do what I want to do. If I want to do something, I should get it. We should know why I strongly will do.	I can't always have what I want. Other people don't know what I need or that others I will have. Sometimes I need to tell them more than once.
Change words: When you believe that if you do that, though you are change someone's mind	It's long/longing and more she will do me the what I want to do. It's whatever we want to know of someone, she will give it to me.	Oh, more really, there's good reason for not letting me have my way. Understanding my character and getting what I want will be not under my own steps.
Change words: Following that if others can show you they will do what you want them to do.	You must not really know me if you won't let me have what I want.	When others disagree me, it shows I'm someone more they don't want.
Positive Words: Following that if others can show you they will do what you want them to do.	Yes, no, yes, it's my best. I want this.	Can't think. It will be my best to a minute. Things are not always fair.
Positive Words: Following that you and others can believe perfectly off of the time.	Why don't they just remember that I don't like that? I'm not doing it right.	People make mistakes. I can be patient with myself and others. Once with my. Now, I'm a valuable contribution person.
Overstating: Making an obvious fact about what you are doing.	It's the best ever, ever word, I'm going to finish.	I'm not going to make decisions based on someone else's behavior.
